However, if there are remaining shares remaining from the allocation to the existing shareholders by proportion in first round, the Company will proceed as follows:

(a) The Company will allocate the remaining shares to the existing shareholders of the Company who express the intention to subscribe shares in excess of the proportion calculated by the proportion of shares held for another 3 rounds unless the shares cannot be allocated because it is a fraction of shares. subscribe, the Board of Directors, or the President, or the Chief Executive Officer, Or persons assigned by the Board of Directors has the right to allocate the remaining shares to any existing shareholders who wish to purchase shares exceeding their pro rata basis at the same price as the existing shareholders. The allocation is based on the shareholding of the subscribers in excess of each individual right by bringing the shareholding proportion of the subscribers in excess of each right multiplied by the remaining shares. It will be the number of shares that the subscriber exceeds the right to each right to be allocated. In the case of a fraction of shares, it will be round off. the stock. to the existing shareholders of 43,880,212 shares

1) Decrease in proportion of shareholding, Control Dilution, The formula for calculating the reduction of shareholding is as follows;

$$1 - [(Q_o + Q_r) / (Q_o + Q_n)]$$

Q_n = Number of shares Increased from the exercise of warrants

$$Q_n = Q_r + Q_w$$

The impact of Control Dilution:

a) The existing shareholders exercise the right to subscribe the newly issued common shares and all of them exercise the TCJ-W2, there will not be any impact on the shareholding proportion.

b) The existing shareholders who exercise their right to subscribe common shares and non-existing shareholders who exercise all of TCJ-W2, it will affect the voting rights of the existing shareholders at the rate of 25%. Anyhow, the above Control Dilution effect may be changed according to the number of newly issued common shares sold to existing shareholders who subscribe for newly issued common shares and receive allocation shares.

$$\text{Price Dilution} = \frac{\text{market price before offering} - \text{market price after offering}}{\text{market price before the offering}},$$

where

Po = Weighted average closing price 15 days Prior to the date of the Board of Directors' meeting held on February 28, 2017, equivalent to Baht 8.96 per share.

Pr = Offering price to the existing shareholders is Baht 10 per share.

Pw = Exercise price of the warrants issued and offered to the existing shareholders is Baht 10 per share.

$$\begin{aligned} \text{The market price before the offering} &= (PoQo + PrQr) / (Qo + Qr) \\ &= 9.1333 \end{aligned}$$

$$\begin{aligned} \text{The market price after the offering} &= \frac{(PoQo + PrQr + PwQw)}{(Qo + Qr + Qw)} \\ &= 9.3500 \end{aligned}$$

After the issuance and offering of warrants to the existing shareholders who subscribe for the newly issued common shares and receive allocation shares, if the warrants are exercised at the entire amount. Price Dilution will not be happened.

- 2) The impact on EPS Dilution:

$$\text{EPS Dilution} = (\text{EPSo} - \text{EPSn}) / \text{EPSo}$$

Where $\text{EPSo} = \text{net Profit} / Qo$

$\text{EPSn} = \text{net income} / (Qo + Qn)$

where $Qn = Qr + Qw$

(In this case it cannot be calculated because the Company recorded a net loss)
